Miss Naomia Sams, of Iron Mound, is visiting her grandparents, Rev. I. T. Sams and wife.

Weddings are all the go up here now, there is to be another one not far from here one day this week.

Bush McKinney, of Beck nerville, came up last week on a visit to friends and relatives at this place.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. The Sunday school at this place has been successfully carried on for two years past.

"Sambo"

SAMS SAYINGS.

There is some corn up in this neighborhood.

Garland Tuttle is still fishing at this writing.

Old Uncle Alex Hamilton is quite feeble at this time.

Joe Hamilton has gone into the horse swapping business of late.

John Winburn is still very low. There don't seem to be any improvement in his condition.

Mike Watts started en-route to Oklahoma last week where he will make his home in the future.

Bud Winburn, formerly of this place but now of Locknane, Clark county, was up Saturday and returned home on Sunday.

Rev. L. S. Denton, alias "Wild Bill", and the Saints had meeting at this place Monday night. Dry Ridge is being blessed with preaching, Rev. Martin Larison and the Saints preach very often.

Mrs. Rhoda Cox, of Pannola, in this county, and who is seventy-seven years old, having some sheep to shear and being unable to find any one to do the work, penned them up and sheared them herself. She had fifteen to shear, and she did the job neatly in a very short time.

MARRIED—On Thursday, May 7, at the residence of John O. Daniell, on Hardwick's creek, Amos King to Miss Maggie McKinney. THE TIMES joins a host of friends in extending congratulations.

Died—April 30, of consumption, Mrs. Rebecca Sons at her home on Hardwick's creek. Her funeral was preached by Rev. E. W. Marcum before burial, on Saturday. She was buried at the Kennon grave-yard.

Last Sunday night after Rev. Louis Denton had held services at Marbleyard, this county, Simp McIntosh and Willis Molden became engaged in a row, and the result was that Molden was very badly cut, and it is thought will die. McIntosh was not hurt.

Judge Robert Riddell, while on his return home from Clay City, May 1st., was thrown from his buggy and severely, yet it is not thought fatally, hurt. His horse became frightened and began kicking and kicked him in the breast, which knocked him out of the buggy.

Gardening season is at hand and the place to get your garden seeds is at J. E. Burgher's.

SUPPLEMENT.

SPOUTSPRING, KY., May 9, 1896

This is what the Mt. Sterling Advocate has to say concerning the big circus they had April 30th: Every body was out to see the circus. Deadbeats, who had not paid a debt in ten years, and parties who are so poor that they have only subsisted the past winter by reason of help from the Associated Charities or from the city treasury, were all able to raise money enough to pay for a show ticket."

Monday was one of the dullest Courtdays ever seen in Winchester. Of the twenty-five head of cattle offered a few 700-pound steers brought 3 cents. No horses or mules. Some trading in hogs at 27 cents.—Winchester Sun.

NOTICE.

All accounts made with me previous to April 1st. were due on that date, and you, who have not settled your accounts made before that date must come forth and settle same at once, as I am needing the use of the money and can wait no longer. I will take all kinds of produce, salable live stock or corn on accounts.

J. E. Burgher, Jr.

Don't fail to take advantage of our offer on 6th. page of this weeks paper.

The Scottville Courier gives the following account of Calvin Whitlow, who has been an invalid for twenty years with a strange disease. It has baffled the efforts of the most skilled physicians: "Mr. Asa Mitchell says when he came to Allen county, twenty years ago, he was at Mr. Whitlow's house, and that at that time Mr. Whitlow was lying flat on his back, with his hands crossed on his breast, but could not move his hands, and could scarcely move his fingers. He could see, talk, laugh, eat, drink, and did not seem to suffer pain. The muscles of his arms were drawn down by his side and his hands flat on the bed, and then he could not even move his fingers. About this time sight failed, and since then he has been totally blind, but his hearing was not much impaired. A little later his jaws became set, and his front teeth had to be knocked out so he could be fed with a spoon. He can drink soup or swallow chewed victuals, and his stomach seems to be in a very healthy condition. All of his body except his head, lungs, stomach and heart seems to be dead. A red hot iron touched to any part of his body would not cause a muscle to quiver. His fingers and toes have crumbled off and gone, but still he lives and talks. This is the most remarkable case. Can some one name the disease?"

The total equalized assessment for this year will, it is predicted, be $10,000,000 less than the assessment of last year.

The Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvine, and Beatyville railroad is to be sold to day. The least money that will get it $550,000.

* *

M. A. Driggars, a grocer, of Richmond, made an assignment a short time ago with $495.57 assets, and liabilities about $500.

Henry M. Smith, the negro who was to have been hanged at Lexington last Wednesday, has been respited by Gov. Bradley till June 2nd.

BROOMSBAGE, Ky., May 7, 1896.—Mr. Editor, 'Just want to tell you a joke or two on the old woman this time. She begs me not to tell, but I can't refrain. It was this way: She stuck her hand into the dishwater to see if it was hot, got mad because it was.

I will now tell you how the milk got in: Brothage is rather poor feed in April for a cow, and old Brindle was nearly dry, so the old lady thought she would strain in a little water to make more milk in the pitcher, but she didn't notice very closely and she strained in a crawfish. The crawfish didn't make any fuss about being strained in the jar of milk, but when it was poured out into the glass, he showed his hand for he began to realize his situation. I asked the old lady how the crawfish came in the milk, she said she didn't know, she guessed the cow had been in a swimming. I told her that wouldn't do for there was no place only in the spring branch and that wasn't deep enough. Haven't you been putting water in the milk? She said she had. How much did you put in it? I put two cups full of water to one of milk, but I strained it. Wasn't there a hole in the strainer? Yes, a small one about the size of a quarter; that was all. That was how the crawfish got in the milk.

Times are hard and money scarce and you should buy your Goose where you can get the most for your money, and that place is at J. E. Burgher, Jr.'s, Spout Springs, Ky.

Whole stock plow shoes $1. at Burgher's.
